

Communion needs community

Jesus took the bread and broke it saying, "This is my body broken for you"

Peter said, "Sorry, but I only eat white bread."

John asked, "How many hands have touched this? It's unsanitary!"

James said, "I'm on the Atkins diet and can't have any carbs."

Andrew said, "I'm not sure there is enough bread here for us all."

Then Jesus took the cup and offered it to his disciples saying, "Take and drink. This is my blood shed for you."

Philip said, "I don't drink alcohol."

Thomas said, "I doubt this is really your blood. The color of wine isn't exactly the same shade of red as human blood."

Bartholomew said. "Ewwwww! There are crumbs in my cup."

Matthew asked, "Which vineyard did this wine come from and what year? I don't like Syrian wines."

And when the dinner was finished, Jesus took a towel and wrapped it around his waist and began washing the feet of his disciples. When he finished, he said, "You must now do this for each other."

James, son of Alphaeus, said, , "I'm embarassed by my feet. I show them to no-one."

Simon the Zealot said, "Who gave you permission to initiate this ceremony? I don't remember discussing it."

Judas, son of James, said: "I don't take my shoes off in public. I have a problem with foot odor."

Judas Isacariot said, "Sure, but only after you change the water first."

And Jesus wept.

-mark